

PANDELL®

CORPORATE BENEFITS

One thing every company should ask is, “What’s in it for us?” As your selected software-as-a-service provider, we’re proud to bring you the following value add-ons.

Free Upgrades

Pandell never charges its customers for software upgrades but that doesn’t mean our products are collecting dust. We pride ourselves on being leaders in the oil and gas industry by delivering technology advancements to our customers as fast and as seamlessly as possible.

Free Support

Your product users are assured to get the help they need, when they need it. Our support administrators assess incoming support calls and direct them to product and industry experts. Our support team responds to support calls in a timely manner, which includes fast-tracking urgent issues if they arise.

Product Integration

Besides developing key integration points between our own land and financial software products, Pandell can provide our customers with integration services with third-party systems. Some examples include: Geoscout, Accumap, Wellview, QByte, Bolo, JDE, Envision and JIBlink.

Leading Technology

Pandell has a dedicated Research & Development Team that builds exciting, new software components and delivers them to our O&G Software Teams. Together these creative minds drive the development of ground-breaking technology solutions that are mobile, cross-browser, web-based and highly scalable.

Data Hosting

Pandell’s hosted applications are delivered over the web with 99.9% uptime, full backups, highly secured user access, redundant failover network connections, onsite backup, real-time monitoring, and secured firewall access in a state of the art server facility in downtown Calgary.

Bundled Pricing

We offer lower price-per-unit pricing when our customers subscribe to three or more of our software products. Using Pandell as your one-stop-shop for multiple back-office systems can lower your monthly fees, plus offer tighter system integration, consolidated billing, and wider ranging support services.
